

WESTERN ART & Architecture

From Cowboy to Contemporary

Clyfford Still : Abstract Legacy of the West
Saving the Lost Art of Straw Inlay in New Mexico
Living with a Collection in Tahoe
Maynard Dixon's Western View

Handcrafted Pintle Hinge Door from La Puerta Originals

Founded more than two decades ago by architect Scott Coleman, La Puerta Originals has garnered the nation's largest collection of antique architectural wood materials. With more than 6,000 carved pieces spanning three centuries and 14 countries — from doors and gates to furniture, mantels and architectural elements — La Puerta Originals starts with some magnificent but untended old pieces, transforming them slowly, by hand, into breathtaking contemporary pieces that often still possess an Old World quality and charm. While we are moved by the fact that most of its original materials come from parts of the world where historic preservation is non-existent, it is the beautiful craftsmanship in each piece — like the graceful dance of lines and curves in the Handcrafted Pintle Hinge Door — that truly inspires us.

$15,000 – $20,000, depending upon incorporated materials

www.lapuertaoriginals.com

505.984.8164

